SAT* MATH PREP - GROUP CLASS

(High School Students)

This course prepares students for the math portion of the SAT and other similar standardized tests. Students explore the types of logic and problem solving questions seen on the SAT by dissecting the math behind the problems and developing a toolkit of skills with which to approach problem-solving situations. Through regular assignments and supplemental material and exercises, students acquire a strong foundation in fundamental concepts and skills and have the option to pursue advanced topics at either a challenging or more moderate pace. Additionally, students become familiar with and practice effective test-taking strategies, develop time-management skills, identify areas of weaknesses, and receive in-depth feedback and score analysis from experienced instructors. The course also addresses some SAT Subject Test topics. For groups in 10th or 11th grade, there is preparation for the PSAT in September and October.
